history of the development of sociology in India, highlighting the contributions of pioneering Indian sociologists.

- Diversity in Indian Society: The workshop explored the rich diversity of Indian society, focusing on various social institutions such as family, caste, religion, and education. Prof. Jodhale discussed how these institutions shape the social fabric of India and influence the behavior and beliefs of individuals.
- Social Stratification and Inequality: A significant portion of the workshop was dedicated to discussing social stratification and inequality in India. Prof. Jodhale examined the caste system, class hierarchy, and gender disparities, shedding light on the challenges posed by these social divisions. He also discussed the impact of globalization and modernization on traditional social structures.
- Contemporary Social Issues: Prof. Jodhale addressed several contemporary social issues facing India, including urbanization, migration, poverty, and communalism. He encouraged participants to think critically about these issues and consider the role of sociologists in addressing them through research and advocacy.
- Sociological Theories and Methods: The session also covered various sociological theories and research methods used to study Indian society. Prof. Jodhale provided examples of how these theories and methods are applied in sociological research, encouraging students to engage in their own sociological inquiries.
- Interactive Discussion: The workshop concluded with an interactive discussion, where participants were invited to share their thoughts and ask questions. Prof. Jodhale provided detailed answers and engaged in a lively discussion with the attendees, further enriching the learning experience.

Summary: The one-day workshop on "Indian Sociology" was a highly successful and informative event. Prof. Keshav V. Jodhale's expertise and engaging presentation provided participants with a deeper understanding of Indian society and the critical role of sociology in
